MINIMUM DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND POLICY

The investment objective of the Peregrine US Managed Volatility Equity Fund is to seek equity-based capital growth with less risk than long-only equities over the long term whilst preserving capital over the shorter to medium term. The intention is that growth be predominantly of a capital nature with income largely reinvested.

The fund aims to achieve outperformance of the benchmark which is 40% ICE Bank of America Secured Overnight Funding Rate (SOFR) Index plus 60% S&P 500 Index, 50% hedged to ZAR, by employing a strategy that permanently has lower risk than the US equity market. The portfolio is permanently hedged in varying degrees which aims to reduce volatility and minimise the impact of falling equity prices and markets. However, around the expiry date of hedge positions, effective exposure to the equity market could vary between 0% and 100% thereby significantly affecting fund volatility. This is the ZAR hedged share class of the fund which has US dollars as the base currency.

RISK REWARD PROFILE

The fund invests in a combination of US listed equity securities or funds, cash and money market instruments and CME listed derivatives. In terms of the above risk reward profile, the portfolio has a medium to high risk rating due to the nature of its strategy which is to combine equity market exposure, via lower risk beta strategies, with permanent hedging in order to reduce volatility and the extent of potential drawdowns on equity positions. The portfolio may be subject to risks which include, but are not limited to, adverse political and macroeconomic events, creditworthiness of issuers and significant corporate events, as well as interest rate conditions and currency fluctuations. Please refer to the additional risks highlighted in the Information and Disclosures section.

INVESTMENT ADVISOR COMMENTARY

The ZAR hedged share class of the Peregrine US Managed Volatility Equity Fund ('the fund') was down 0.7% in March, slightly behind its composite benchmark. The S&P 500 Index ended the month up 3.7% (in US dollars) as implied volatility (illustrated by the VIX) fell dramatically. The fund typically lags during sharp market rallies, which was the case in March. The fund retains a cautious tilt to provide protection if the market should retrace from current levels.

H4 Collective Investments (RF) (Pty) Ltd is the South African representative for this fund. The manager is licensed by the GFSC as an investment manager. Peregrine Guernsey Limited is a subsidiary of Peregrine Holdings Limited. The company has also appointed Citadel Investment Services Proprietary Limited ("Citadel"), registration number 1996/006847/07, as the investment advisor of the fund. Risk warning

The risk and return profile of a fund illustrates the amount of risk undertaken by an investor in the hope of achieving a particular return on an investment. The generally accepted principle is that potential return rises with an increase in risk. The risk and return profile on the face of this document is based on the historical performance of the fund. In addition to the risk warnings included elsewhere in this document, it is important to note that there are many other risks associated with investing in collective investments. These can include but are not limited to the following: general market risks (such as general movements in interest rates; external factors [war, natural disasters and such like]; changes to the law and regulatory frameworks; governmental policy changes; global, regional or national economic developments), risks related to a specific security (like the possibility of a company's credit rating being downgraded); and loss in the purchasing power of an investment as a result of an increase in the price of consumer goods (known as inflationary risks).

This fund invests in foreign securities. There are potential material risks associated with investing in foreign securities. These include but are not limited to potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political and social instability, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks and potential limitations on the availability of market information, all of which may have an impact on fund performance. In addition, risks associated with investing in emerging markets (which are generally less mature than those in developed markets) include but are not limited to currency risks, the possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation or nationalisation of assets and the establishment of foreign exchange controls which may include the suspension of the ability to transfer currency from a given country.

Derivatives

If this fund has exposure to derivatives, this fact and the level of exposure will be specified within this document. Where this fund invests in other funds which use derivatives, those underlying derivative exposures will not be contained in this document. Derivatives derive their value from the value of an underlying asset. Investing in derivatives involves risk because depending on how the derivative is structured, the fund's losses or gains may be unlimited. To prevent this, the fund's derivative positions must be "covered" at all times. This means that the fund must always hold the underlying asset on which the derivative is based or have sufficient cash or "margin" to deliver if the fund's derivative positions move against it. If derivatives are used in this fund, the cash/cash equivalent shown in the asset allocation section includes the portion allocated to "margin" for covering derivative positions and such portion of cash/cash equivalent is therefore not available for use by the manager. Other asset classes shown in the asset allocation section represent the market value of those assets and must be read together with the derivative holdings' disclosure. The use of derivatives in collective investment schemes is governed by regulation. Derivatives can be used only for efficiency in portfolio management, for increasing a fund's yield, or to protect the fund against losses if the value of the shares or instruments invested in, or the market, falls. They may not be used for speculating or for enhancing the return of the fund by using gearing. The most common derivatives are options (puts and calls) and futures.

General disclosures

Collective investment schemes are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Collective Investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commission is available on request from the manager. Neither the manager, the company nor Citadel, provides any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of the fund. The manager has the right to close the portfolio to new investors to manage it more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. Where any forecasts or commentary about the expected future performance of asset classes or the market in general are made in this document, please note that neither the manager, the company nor Citadel guarantee that such forecasts or commentary will occur. Where this fund invests into other funds ("underlying funds"), delays in reporting by such underlying funds may impact on the accuracy of the asset allocation and country/sector allocation disclosures.

Performance disclosures

The performance calculated and shown is that of the portfolio. Individual investor performances may differ because of initial fees (if applicable), the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Where periods of longer than one year are used in calculating past performance, certain figures may be annualised. Annualisation is the conversion of a rate of any length of time into a rate that is reflected on an annual basis. All since-inception performance returns are calculated from the launch date of the portfolio.

Calculation of the NAV and price

The value of participatory interests is calculated on a NAV basis. The NAV is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any deductible expenses (which may include audit fees, brokerage, service fees, securities transfer tax and bank charges). Forward pricing is used. The price of participatory interests is calculated by dividing the NAV by the number of participatory interests in issue. The fund is available via certain LSPs, who levy their own fees. Investors in this fund may thus be liable for an initial fee and/or annual service fee levied by the third-party administrator that is not reflected in the initial charge (where applicable) or NAV calculation. Prices are made available on the Peregrine website (www.peregrine.gg) in accordance with the dealing frequency of the fund.
